

Photo by Judy Ahrens

Local Color

Max Moran is painting Greenport — Greenport faces, that is. The New York City artist has been commissioned to create canvases of scenic Greenport storefronts, but while on his own time has found village faces to be apt subjects as well. Harold Nichols poses in a Main Street doorway, with Doris Brockman keeping him company.